PROGRAMS FUNDED BY THE
DENVER REGIONAL COUNCIL OF GOVERNMENTS
TO SERVE OLDER ADULTS IN 2009/2010

The Denver Regional Council of Governments (DRCOG) is the Area Agency on Aging (AAA) for the eight-county metropolitan region, and is responsible for planning, funding and providing services for adults 60 years of age and older.

The DRCOG AAA serves older adults in Adams, Arapahoe, Clear Creek, Douglas, Gilpin and Jefferson counties, the City & County of Broomfield, and the City & County of Denver. There are no income eligibility requirements to obtain services; however, services are targeted to frail older adults and those who are socially or economically most in need. There are no payments required to receive services, but contributions are encouraged from those who are financially able. Participant contributions are used to expand the services and number of people served.

Through its Area Agency on Aging, DRCOG allocates federal and state monies to community agencies to provide direct services to older adults. The division directly provides information, referral and assistance services and long-term care ombudsman services. Federal and state regulations require certain minimum funding levels for specific areas, such as nutrition, legal services and in-home services.

This document provides all services provided directly by the DRCOG AAA and by service providers via contracts with DRCOG.
